

2nd Annual Ice Climbing Festival at a Glance

Climbers, novice to pro, are invited to join us for big fun in the big frozen waterfalls outside our doorstep in the shadows of the Annapurnas from February 1 - 10, 2020.

At 3200m Humde, Manang sets the annual scene for the Ice Climbing Festival co-hosted by the Nepal Climbing Team and the Nepal Mountaineering Association with the support of Visit Nepal 2020 Secretariat. A look at the ten days:

Date	Day in Brief
Saturday, February 1	Leave Kathmandu by bus to Beisishar; jeep onwards. Destination TBD based on traffic and weather conditions.
Sunday, February 2	Jeep to Humde.
Monday, February 3	Festival Opening Program
Tuesday, February 4	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability.
Wednesday, February 5	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability.
Thursday, February 6	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability.
Friday, February 7	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability.
Saturday, February 8	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability.
Sunday, February 9	Ice Climbing with alternative possibilities including skiing, archery, and cultural activities dependent on weather and resource availability. *Departure towards Kathmandu may commence. TBD based on snow and road conditions.
Sunday, February 10	Departure to Kathmandu